

Saja Al Zoubi

Dr. Al Zoubi is a Syrian development economist who specialises in and teaches Gender and Forced Migration & Middle East Politics. Her research focus is on how the livelihoods of displaced people and refugees can be enhanced, with a strong focus on gender.

Currently, she is a visiting scholar at Glasgow university as a mentor in 'International Master in Adult Education for Social Change (IMAESC) (Erasmus Mundus)'. She was at Christ church College, University of Oxford in Jan 2018 till Sept 2020. Dr. Al Zoubi, was also a tutor and research fellow at the Oxford Department for International Development.

Saja has been working in an academic/research and UN and NGOs overseas foundations for around 15 years. She is the recipient of numerous awards, from international and regional Foundations.